

ALLIED ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

Threat to Proceed With the Occupation of Germany if Terms Are Violated

Germany Given 24 Hours to Comply With Armistice Agreement to Surrender All Locomotives to the Allied Military Forces

LONDON, Dec. 3.—A Reuter despatch from Berlin today confirms the delivery of the ultimatum, the time limit of which is 24 hours. It says Matthias Erzberger (of the German armistice commission), offered to deliver all the locomotives as soon as they were repaired. The German newspapers, adds the despatch, point out that there is no hope of prolonging the armistice and that it is likely the allies will occupy Germany.

The foregoing comes as an add to a London despatch which has not been received. It appears to indicate the delivery of an allied ultimatum to Germany for non-compliance with armistice terms, with a threat to proceed with the occupation of Germany if these are not complied with.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

City Fathers Vote to Borrow $200,000 in Anticipation of Tax Revenue

Claimants for Compensation During Infla Epidemic Are Given Leave to Withdraw

The municipal council voted to authorize City Treasurer Fred H. Rourke to borrow $200,000 in anticipation of the payment of taxes due the city this year, at the regular meeting of the body this morning.

Last August the treasurer was authorized to borrow $100,000 for such purposes and at that time, he thought he would have enough to carry him through the present year. Owing to the failure of several large corporations in the city to pay their 1918 taxes, the unexpected expenditure of $12,000 for the payment of the high school steel and a deficiency in the amount expected to be obtained from the income tax amounting to about $52,000, the treasury has reached a low level and Mr. Rourke felt that unless he had $200,000 to tide him over until this money came in he would be short by the first of January.

He explained to the council that all the money anticipated will be forthcoming sooner or later, but the unexpected delay in its payment has embarrassed the treasury department temporarily.

Commissioner Morse wanted to know what was done on the matter a year ago and Mr. Rourke replied that

Pershing to Keep 1,250,000 for Occupational Force—Others Coming Home

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Secretary Baker, appearing before the senate military committee today to explain the delay in completing the publication of American casualties overseas, said he thought most of the unreported names were those of men slightly wounded and would come by mail.

Senators were unable to understand why only something over one hundred thousand names have been published when it has been officially announced that the casualties number 265,693. The secretary said every effort consistent with accuracy was made to prevent delay, and that General Pershing had been urged repeatedly to expedite his lists, sending the names of the dead first.

"The department from the beginning," Mr. Baker said, "has never held up, or delayed giving out, casualties. Our policy has been to give a complete statement as soon as possible."

CROWN PRINCE MAKES DENIAL

Has Not Renounced Anything or Signed Any Document, He Declares

Former German Crown Prince Issues Statement From Holland

OOSTERLAND, Holland, Dec. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—"I have not renounced anything and I have not signed any document whatever," the former German crown prince declared to the correspondent today.

"I am convinced," the former crown prince said to his interviewers, "that we lost the war early in October, 1918. I considered our position hopeless after the battle of the Marne which we should not have lost of the chiefs of our general staff had not suffered a case of nerves."

"I tried to persuade the general staff to seek peace then, even at a great sacrifice, going so far as to give up Alsace-Lorraine. But I was told to mind my own business and confine my activities to commanding my armies. I have proof of this."

In a wireless message from Berlin on Nov. 9, just prior to the signing of the armistice, it was announced that Emperor William had "decided to renounce the throne" and that the imperial chancery, then Prince Max of Baden, would remain in office "until the questions connected with abdication of the Kaiser, the renouncing by the crown prince of the throne of the German empire and of Prussia and the setting up of a regency" had been settled.

The fact that no formal document of abdication was made public led to the demand that William Hohenzollern make a definite renunciation. This he did on Nov. 30, but the abdication was only on his own account.

Oosterland is on the island of Wieringen, where the former crown prince is interned.

BAND CONCERT AND COMMUNITY SING

"Sing!"

The band burst forth into the jubilant strains of "Smiles," several thousand voices took up the air, a wildly energetic leader on the stand was attempting to direct the voice of each individual before him with one hand and control the volume of sound in its entirety with the other. Some of the singers were modestly hiding the volume of their notes in the song sheet before them, others were looking skyward with the assurance of an opera star; a great number were fascinated by the personality of their director. Thus, did the employees of the Massachusetts mills enjoy their second industrial noon-hour community sing this noon in the mill yard. And when one o'clock had struck and the last notes of "America" had died away, one thing was predominantly evident. The singers were happy and it was Albert Edmund Brown who again had shown them how to be happy.

This noon's sing was preceded by a 20-minute band concert by the U. S. Cartridge Co. band. The concert began at 12:20 and at 12:40 Mr. Brown mounted the stand and said that he wanted to hear some real noise; whether it was musical was merely incidental to him.

The national anthem was sung, then came the sum of popular war numbers from "I Ain't Got Weary Yet" to "The Long Long Trail." The successive numbers were given with accumulating snap and vim and at five minutes of one when there seemed to be just the slightest lag in the enthusiasm, Albert Edmund peeled off his coat and hat, shook his fists at the crowd and there came a greater volume of musical sound than ever before. A huge wave of music seemed to have been stirred up by his feigned anger.

One whistle struck, Albert Edmund told his fellow singers that they were first class singers, the band struck up a lively march and it was all over. Next sing will be at the Strand theatre tonight.

PRIVATE WILLIAM TONER KILLED IN ACTION

Another Lowell soldier, Priv. William Toner, has been killed in action in France, news to this effect having been received from Washington, yesterday, by his brother, Edward Toner of 17 Sawtelle place.

Priv. William Toner was not born in Lowell, but he had lived here for several years. He was 25 years of age and came to Lowell about 17 years ago. When he was first drafted he went to Camp Devens. From there he went to Camp Greene and then to Camp Merritt. His next move was "over there." Before joining the army he was employed at the plant of the Day State Storage company in Jackson street.

Priv. Toner was born in Needham Heights, his brother, Edward, he is survived by a sister, Elizabeth Toner of this city, two step-brothers in Waltham and a step-sister in Roxbury.

WERE BADLY BURNED

Mrs. John Paton on Dangerous List as Result of Kerosene Explosion

As a result of a kerosene explosion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Paton, 1 Dalton place off West Third street, Centralville, Mrs. Paton is in a very serious condition at St. John's hospital, suffering from burns all over her body, while her husband was burned about the hands, while attempting to extinguish the flames, which had ignited the woman's clothing. So serious is Mrs. Paton's condition that it is feared she will not survive.

According to what could be learned, the explosion occurred at about 2 o'clock when Mrs. Paton poured kerosene in the stove in her kitchen. At that time the couple were alone in the house. The flames, which spread to the rugs on the floor, ignited Mrs. Paton's clothing and it was with difficulty and not until the woman was badly burned all about the body, that the husband succeeded in putting out the fire. A telephone alarm was sent in but when the firemen arrived the fire was out. The ambulance was summoned and the couple were taken to St. John's hospital. Mr. Paton after receiving treatment was able to return to his home. Mrs. Paton is 74 years of age.

TRAIN WOMEN WORKERS

To Battle With Reconstruction Problems at Home and Overseas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—To turn out trained women workers to battle with reconstruction problems at home and overseas, the National Catholic Service school was opened on Georgetown Heights near this city recently, as the latest link in the chain of war work institutions of the National Catholic War Council. After intensive training in social, military and welfare work, classes of forty women from every class of this country will be graduated every six weeks from this new national school to take their places in the army of reconstruction workers that is to be thrown into the industrial centers of America, as well as overseas and in the visitors' houses and service clubs maintained by this wartime organization. With the end of the war, the need for trained welfare workers to cope with reconstruction and demobilization conditions will be increased rather than lessened, it is declared by leaders of the National Catholic War Council.

Domestic science, military organization, social welfare and recreation, first aid, book-keeping and statistics, home nursing, religious, social and patriotic inspiration of war and reconstruction activities with a survey of the field and agencies, law, customs and courtesies, are some of the subjects in which intensive training is to be constantly given by experts to the women candidates at this service school. The "spirit of self-sacrifice and service and the willingness to do hard work cheerfully," with certificates of good health and character are the only requirements for women candidates between the ages of 20 and 50 years, who receive tuition, board and lodging free. As a test, the first class has had the large "Clifton" mansion, housing the new service school, turned over to it in unselfish condition, to be set to rights by the students themselves.

Close co-operation with the ordinance department, the department of labor and other government departments concerned with the pressing problems of reconstruction in industrial communities, is to be maintained by the National Catholic War Council in projecting its plans for mobilizing its new army of women welfare workers. Under the supervision of Rev. John J. Burke, C.S.B., chairman of the war council's committee on special war activities, and in immediate charge of Dr. William T. Kerby and Dr. John M. Cooper of its committee on women's activities, the National Catholic Service school will command the services of some of the foremost social and economic experts in this country on its faculty. It is expected to serve with other preparatory institutions established in the war work of the National Catholic War Council, as a valuable source from which to recruit its force of workers now being engaged in reconstruction work at home and abroad.

Employees agreeing to take their cars to the barns.

Mayor Davis left for Washington last night to put the question before the war labor board for arbitration after the street car employees voted down a proposition by the mayor to defer action until the war labor board could consider the questions at issue.

The employees justify their quitting work on the ground that an agreement with the company for the removal of the women on Nov. 1, and recently extended until Dec. 1, was ignored.

The company, on its part, asserts that it received a telegram Saturday from the secretary of the national war labor board at Washington asking it to retain the women in its employ until their status was finally determined by the war labor board.

OPPOSE PETITION FOR NEW CEMETERY

Several residents of Stratham street in Wiggville appeared before the board of health at its meeting held late yesterday afternoon to oppose the petition of Burton H. Wiggins, that he be allowed to open a new cemetery tract on the northerly side of the street. They gave as the reason for their opposition the fact that they are compelled to use water from a well nearby and that if the land were taken over for cemetery purposes they would not use it.

Mr. Wiggins explained his plans in connection with the proposed cemetery. At the conclusion of the hearing the board took the matter under advisement.

STATE CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES

Lowell social service workers and persons in the north Middlesex have received invitations to attend the Massachusetts state conference of charities which holds its fifteenth session at Springfield for three days, December 5, 6 and 7. The delegates will take up the general subject of social reconstruction with a better social order as the aim and as the means of attaining it, preventive measures.

The headquarters of this state conference will be in the mahogany room of the municipal auditorium in Court Square. All the meetings of the conference will be held in the auditorium. The conference opens Thursday, Dec. 5 and will be symposium of fifteen minute addresses on the subject of reducing the number of the feeble minded. This will be participated in by Walter E. Fernald, M.D., of the School for Feeble Minded at Waverly; Miss Amy Woods, general secretary for the League for Preventive Work, Boston; G. M. Kline, M.D., chairman of the commission on Mental Diseases, Boston and Edward T. Hartman, secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League, Boston.

The forenoon session of the conference, Dec. 6, Friday, will be devoted to the address of the president of the conference on, "Philanthropy and the Child" and a talk on, "The Children's Year," Dr. Jessica B. Peixotta of Washington. The afternoon session will hear a talk on child conservation in Massachusetts by C. C. Carstens, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. This will be followed by 20 minute addresses on this topic by various authorities. J. Prentice Murphy, secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Boston will talk on the principles of home finding and child placing. Henry W. Thurston of Child Welfare, New York, will speak on "The War in Its Relation to Child Life," and C. C. Carstens will wind up the afternoon session with a discussion of a comprehensive state children's program. "The evening will be devoted to several addresses and discussion on social diseases."

The morning session Saturday has a topic of considerable interest to Lowell's social service workers because it will be, "Women in War Industries." Mrs. Margaretta Neale of the federal employment service will talk on "Transportation of Women and Girls from One State to Another for Use in War Industries." Dr. Kristine Mann will talk on health and recreation for war workers and a speaker to be announced will talk on the commercial day nursery. In the afternoon the session will be presided over by Robert W. Kelso, secretary of the state board of charity. Mrs. John W. Henderson, a retirement visitor for the Hampden district of the state board of charity will discuss public poor relief; Miss Mary Board, R.N., will talk on public health and Miss Anne L. VINCENT INDICTS HUNS

Middlesex Women's Club

Hears Noted Speaker Discuss "Literature and War"

"Literature and War" was the subject of the address given by Dr. Leon H. Vincent yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Middlesex Women's club, in Colonial hall. A large number were present to hear Dr. Vincent deliver his second lecture of the season. It proved to be very interesting for the speaker, by quoting passages from English and German literature written before the war, brought to light information which could leave little doubt in the mind of any one as to which country was responsible for the war and that the self-conceit as to the power of Germany as a world leader was permeated through the minds of the German people by means of German literature.

"The question whether Germany deliberately planned the present war," said Dr. Vincent, "and whether she started it, is one of the questions that is going to exercise the collective mind more in the future than in the past. Geography and political affiliation have so much to do in deciding a point of view. The very talkative Kaiser, the peace-loving Hindenburg, the iron-willed Ludendorff, the only man who is doing possibly as well as still say the late Kaiser says that the second world war is being fought for the opportunity to draw the sword from the scabbard."

The speaker illustrated the effect of geography and political affiliations upon the minds of scholars. He stated that only historical experts can solve this great problem and after they have solved it, all the world will not be entirely satisfied with their verdict. He pointed out that there would be numberless discussions, and that even when the war was two months old whole libraries of books had been written by scholars. He said: "When it is all done, what will be the result? The German will still think as a German, the Englishman as an Englishman and the Frenchman as a Frenchman."

An interesting comparison took place when the speaker discussed the literature of the times, comparing the works of Tolstoy, the German writer, who had been in England repeatedly and hated England, and urged others to hate it with present day writers. Yet he was a scholar. He presented a division of the country in years to come. Then Dr. Vincent outlined the policy of Rev. Stopford Brooke, of England, who had lauded the efficient German government, and even went so far as to comment favorably upon the annexation of small immediate countries with such a progressive nation as that of Germany.

Further reference was made to other works which pointed out only too plainly, the German spirit in 1868 and 1870, the time when George Meredith wrote and published the book, "The Adventures of Harry Richmond." Having attended a school on the Rhine, Meredith was supposed to be in close touch with conditions as they existed in that period, and so impressive were they in the light of later events that they are looked upon now with curiosity and wonder. In this book a German professor and a German prince tell the English boy how superior the Germans are to the English and how a parading out of nations is ultimately, from their viewpoint, to be done. One of the speaker's remarks of the English, "their ideals of life are all low. The German ideas of life imply a struggle towards better things in the future."

To show how unprepared England was and how she trusted Germany not to mobilize her armies, Dr. Vincent pointed out the picture of that situation so vividly portrayed in H. G. Wells' "Mr. Brilling Sees It Through."

Continuing, he said: "An impressive picture was found in Belgium when Germany offered to pay for any damages made while traveling through the little country to devastate larger territory, and Belgium answered that Germany must back her way through. In violation of international law, the representatives of the German people in the Reichstag were applauded by the very same individuals that we are asked to economize for, in order that they may be fed."

The quotations from Hugh Gibson's book on the murder of Edith Cavell further indicated, according to the speaker, the German form of warfare, which consists of stabbing in the dark and the brutal attitude of the German military officials. "We sometimes say," he said, "that Germany lost the war at this or that famous engagement, Germany lost whatever moral advantages she ever had when she shot Edith Cavell."

"The war is in a sense over and the day will come, I hope soon, when the remains of that little English nurse will be taken home to her own country. I hope that it will be on a British man-of-war, with a naval escort; and it is too much to hope that her remains will be laid in St. Paul's cathedral, under the towering arches which cover Wellington and Nelson?"

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAD THE WORLD

They Have Beauty, Health and Brains

"A really beautiful woman is always a healthy woman," remarked one of our noted beauty specialists, "for true beauty comes from the blood and strong steady nerves."

Rich, red blood, the fountain of life and youth, shows itself in a clear rosy skin, solid flesh, fine form and a keen bright mind. Red blooded women, with strong nervous vitality, are sought after by men; they are the hope and leaders of the world.

American women lead the world in health, beauty and intelligence, and their number is increasing. They have learned the value of Iron and Phosphates in keeping them in perfect condition.

The number of weak, pale, fagged out, run down and nervous women is bound to decrease rapidly, once the power of Phosphated Iron becomes more generally known, said a leading doctor. "There is not a reason in the world why women should not be strong, happy and a joy to look upon when the remedy is at hand."

Phosphated Iron has accomplished wonders with my patients. It has restored health, vitality, strong nerves and happiness to whole families. It's the healthy, red, iron blooded, strong, phosphated nerves men and women that enjoy life and lead in every work. Think it over!

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

IMPORTANT MATTERS BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The 66th congress began its third and final session yesterday with many important matters before it. These include solution of the railroad problem, the army and navy programs, reconstruction legislation, retrenchment in government expenditures, war revenue legislation, woman suffrage and the Colombian treaty.

In view of President Wilson's statement in his annual address to congress yesterday that he does not expect conclusion of peace until spring, leaders here night expressed doubt whether the present senate, which expires by limitation next March 3, would be called upon to act on the peace treaty.

The first general legislation to come up at this session will be the revenue bill, which the senate finance committee plans to report Thursday. Republican members decided yesterday to file a minority report, opposing the plan to fix 1920 taxes on a light in the senate and house, which many members believe will prevent passage of the measure in its present form, is forecast.

Work on the major appropriation bills, including the navy measure, already is under way in committees, but none of them is expected to be ready for report to the house before the Christmas recess as the committees intend to scrutinize all provisions and pare down expenses wherever possible.

Action on the Panama controversy, is planned at this session. Senator Hitchcock said he understood the state department now is negotiating a new treaty to substitute for the pending convention, which proposes payment of $15,000,000 to Colombia and contains a clause to which republicans have objected expressing regret for this nation's course in the Panama negotiations.

Early action also is planned on the woman suffrage resolution, passed by the house last January and its advocates have increased hope for its adoption.

The senate judiciary committee's inquiry into brewers' activities was resumed today and indefinite investigation of coal conductions is planned by the senate manufacturers committee.

The senate military committee today started inquiries into alleged delay in transmission of army casualty reports. It took up yesterday an inquiry in the war department's demobilization plans.

BELIEVES SHE HAS BEEN SWINDLED

A complaint for larceny has been filed at the police station against Mrs. Mary Baxter, who gave her address as 420 Chestnut street, by Mrs. Thomas Theriault of 46 Circuit ave. Mrs. Theriault claims that two weeks ago Mrs. Baxter called at her home and after representing herself as a representative of the Larkin Soap Co., collected $14 for 100 pounds of rice, sugar, pea beans and soap, which were to be delivered the following week. Mrs. Theriault was given a receipt signed "Mrs. Mary Baxter, 420 Chestnut st." but the goods have not yet been delivered. Mrs. Theriault became suspicious when she found that there is no such number as 420 in Chestnut st. and the police are now investigating.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A regular meeting of Loyal Wamessit Lodge, 7162, T.V.O.F., M.L., was held last evening in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street with N. G. Frank E. Cleveland in the chair. It was reported that four members of the organization are on the sick list. An invitation was received from Integrity lodge to attend the class initiation to be held Dec. 9 and it is expected a large representation of the lodge will be present at the exercises. P. G. Isaac Tinker was appointed to represent the lodge at the celebration of Britain's day to be held at the state armory in Westford street, Dec. 8. Routine business was transacted and an interesting address was delivered by P. G. Russell Stack, a returned army man.

Wamessit Staff Association

A feature of the meeting of the members of Wamessit Staff association, which was held Sunday afternoon in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, was the nomination of officers. The election will take place at a special meeting to be held Dec. 13. At the close of the business session an entertainment program was given by the following:

P. G. Frank Bowles, P. G. Willis Bowles, Brother William Gaffney, G. M. Sidney Fryer, James Taylor, P. G. James MacArthur, Brother Edward Russell, P. G. Thomas M. Smith, E. S. Herbert Fish, President Frank E. Cleveland and the Merrimack Valley quartet.

LOWELL SOLDIER DIES IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Edith April, whose son, Private Joseph April, died in France, Oct. 21, of pneumonia, as previously reported, have received a letter from Rev. John J. Cullinan, chaplain of the 15th Infantry, to which the Lowell soldier was attached. It tells in detail the manner in which the young soldier died and is as follows:

"I am sure you have heard the sad news of your son's death. He died Oct. 21, 1918, at 12:05 o'clock of pneumonia. He was well cared for, but there was an epidemic here and many of our men died. He was attended by a priest and received the last sacraments. He was given a Catholic burial and all military honors. He is buried in grave 30 of the American E.F. cemetery, Carmon Blanc, Gironde, France. His grave is marked by a large white cross which bears his name. The peasants have decorated his grave with flowers. 'May God sustain you and his dear ones in their great sorrow and reward him for his sacrifice. May he rest in peace!'

"I am the Catholic chaplain of the regiment."

SIGHTLESS SOLDIERS TO BE RELIEVED WITH THEIR FAMILIES BY AMERICANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The following cablegram has been received at the headquarters of the Permanent Blind Relief War fund for Soldiers and Sailors of the Allies, 530 Fifth avenue, New York, from Mrs. Kessler, honorary secretary of the fund, who for 18 months has been in Paris working on behalf of the blinded soldiers:

Blind, president our French committee and governmental head of all blinded in France has sent urgent request to Permanent Blind Relief War fund to open immediately at Lille school for re-education of blinded soldiers belonging to provinces invaded districts of France just liberated. These stricken men scattered all over France in various institutions have had no communication with their own people for four years.

We deem it absolutely essential from the humanitarian point of view, to send these blinded men back to their home country for completion of their re-education. In name of fund we have agreed to do this.

The fund has also assumed entire charge of the Serbian blinded soldiers now at Biarritz who were helpless and penniless.

We are also including eight hundred Italian blinded society needing relief.

Moreover we hope soon to be able to re-establish all Belgian blinded soldiers now under our protection in our institution at Port Villez back in their own beloved land as soon as feasible.

Please appeal to the generous American public to support us in these additional pressing and heart stirring demands.

PEACE APPEAL A SHOCK

German Paper of October
Received Here Told of
Plans to Continue the War

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—German statesmen and newspapers, even as late as the end of October, were still insisting that Germany would continue the war rather than accept a humiliating peace. Copies of German newspapers received here show that even members of the socialist party viewed the sacrifice of national interests as impossible.

War Minister Scheuch stated in the Reichstag on Oct. 24 that the German army had not been beaten and that the "homeland" had not collapsed. Forces which would permit a successful resistance were to be found everywhere, he said. He added that the most urgent need of the hour was to stimulate these forces. He admitted that German tanks had not been successful until American-made machines with caterpillar treads solved the problems involved.

During the same sitting of the Reichstag, Deputy Gustav Noske, socialist, said: "The German people do not despair, nor do they collapse. The German people need not be ashamed of the outcome of the war, but they will require an accounting. We demand above all, enlightenment regarding the Bernstein-Wilson negotiations. The secretary of the navy who said that American transports would be welcome booty for our submarines will also be asked for an explanation."

Georg Ledebour, independent socialist, said that Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff had not informed the government and the people of the true situation on the battlefield and that their demand for an immediate peace came as a shock following the statement of the minister of war.

NEW COMET WAS OBSERVED NOV. 30

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 3.—The comet discovered by Prof. Schorr, of Cambridge, was observed on Nov. 23, was observed on Nov. 30 from the naval observatory at Washington, and the Yerkes observatory in Wisconsin, according to telegrams received at the Harvard observatory. The comet is very faint, being of the 14th magnitude, and is visible only in large telescopes. It is in the constellation Taurus, not far from the bright star Aldebaran.

SENATE COMMITTEE IS OPPOSED BY LODGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Senator Lodge, minority leader in the upper branch of congress, is unalterably opposed to the suggestion that the United States senate appoint a special bi-partisan committee of its members to visit France to keep in touch with the various moves and developments of the peace conference.

Senator Cummins' resolution, presented yesterday, urging the appointment of such a committee, was referred to the senate committee on foreign relations, out of which it probably never will be reported. There is no concealment of the general chagrin in the senate at the failure of President Wilson to give the senate representation on the peace delegation, but Senator Lodge and other influential members on both sides of the chamber are not in sympathy with the purpose of the Cummins resolution.

Senator Lodge says that in the negotiation of a treaty of peace the responsibility lies with the president, and the presence of a committee of senators at the conference would cause great embarrassment to the representatives of the allied nations and would otherwise serve no good purpose.

DENMARK NOT TO SEND FOOD TO GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Denmark has made no arrangement for furnishing large monthly shipments of food to Germany as reported recently by the Berlin correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende, according to an official despatch to the Danish legation from the foreign office at Copenhagen. The Tidende report said as a result of negotiations between Denmark and Germany, the latter would receive each month 75,000 tons of oats; 150,000 tons of meat and 230,000 tons of wheat. This, the Copenhagen foreign office cables, was due to a misunderstanding. "The Berlin correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende on Nov. 19 informed his paper," the despatch said, "that the German food administration had just concluded an investigation of the food conditions in Germany and as a result, had stated that to feed the German people through the winter, it would be necessary for Germany to import the above-mentioned quantities of food from outside. But nothing was said of Denmark furnishing Germany with these immense quantities of food."

Plans to Raise $80,000,000 in Two Years

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—Ministers and laymen representing virtually every Methodist church in New England attended the world program conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city today when plans for raising $80,000,000 within the next two years were outlined. The program is to be carried out in connection with the 100th anniversary of the first mission of the church and the money used for extending the church's worth throughout the world.

News From Camp Devens

GEN. EDWARDS VISITS DEVENS IN COMPANY WITH GOV. MCCALL—PROUD OF SOLDIERS

CAMP DEVENS, Dec. 3.—Yesterday was Edwards day at Camp Devens. Accompanied by Gov. Samuel W. McCall, Mrs. McCall and members of the governor's staff and council, the veteran commander of the famous Yankee division saw for the first time in nearly a year and a half the cantonment that has sprung up on the site he selected before he went abroad.

When last he visited this ground it was a trackless wilderness. Yesterday he saw one of the finest military camps in the whole United States, and furthermore he saw at least one regiment that has been trained at the camp. It was a wonderful day for the camp, and Gen. Edwards said it was just as wonderful for him.

The governor, Gen. Edwards and their party arrived at the west gate of the camp at 2 o'clock. There they were met by the headquarters troops. The horsemen surrounded the seven automobiles and escorted them to Division Headquarters, where Maj. Gen. H. P. McCain was awaiting them.

The two generals met in front of Division Headquarters, and it was a meeting of two old friends who had been separated for many months. From that moment on Gen. Edwards saw how truly glad the officers and men of this camp were to have with them the former commander of their brothers.

After Gen. McCain had greeted the Governor and Mrs. McCall and the others of their party, he invited them into his office, where they chatted for 15 minutes or more.

Boche Heard 12th Coming

While they were inside, the champion regiment of the Plymouth Division, the 74th Infantry, commanded by Col. Oliver H. Dockery, Jr., was marching into the main parade field, and when at 2:25 the governor and the two major generals entered Gen. McCain's automobile to proceed to the parade field, the entire regiment was drawn up, bright and shining and ready to pass in review.

Gen. Edwards was delighted with what he saw on the drill field. He said so, and he showed it. For a time he stood with Gen. McCain and watched platoon after platoon pass Col. Dockery and his staff. Then he wanted to get closer, so out on to the field he went and stood so near that he could have touched the marching men as they passed. He stood there until the last man had gone by and the band was swinging in behind the regiment to march off the field.

Col. Dockery got back to the party Gen. McCain introduced them and Gen. Edwards cordially shook the colonel's hand.

"Congratulations you, colonel, on your fine regiment," he said. "Then he turned to the large gathering of officers, soldiers and civilians. "Boches," he said, "I'm going to tell you a secret. I know now why the boche quit. He heard that the Plymouth division was coming over to join the Yankee division, so he threw up his hands and cried 'kamerad' before they arrived."

Following the review the governor and Gen. Edwards were taken on a whirlwind tour of the camp, which, as soon as the 12th Division is disposed of, will undoubtedly come under Gen. Edwards' jurisdiction.

Just before 4 o'clock Gen. and Mrs. McCain held a reception and tea at Gen. McCain's house. Mrs. Emory Smith, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. McCain, and Mrs. Henry Cape, Jr., wife of Capt. Cape, Gen. McCain's senior aid, poured. Mrs. McCain and the general received the visitors.

Virtually all senior officers of the division and cantonment organizations attended, and among them Gen. Edwards found many old friends, including some officers who had served under him in France. Throughout their visit Lieut. George Parker acted as aid to Gen. Edwards and Capt. Roland Wilkins of Boston was aid to the governor. The party left for Boston shortly after 4 o'clock, delighted with their visit.

United States Guards, probably about 5000 of them, are coming to Camp Devens to be demobilized. This became known here yesterday. And it also became known that the 42d Infantry is going to Camp Upton to take up the work now being done by the United States Guards. The battalion from the 36th Infantry that will go to Boston will do the same work.

700 Soldiers Discharged

Approximately 700 soldiers were discharged from the Depot Brigade yesterday. From now until the end of the week, however, the number to be discharged daily will increase.

Stringfellow on Stand

The trial of Private Pressly H. Stringfellow, B company, 212th Field Signal Battalion, which was begun yesterday morning was resumed at 1:30 this afternoon. It is expected that Stringfellow will take the stand in his own defense.

Agents of the department of justice and the military intelligence, who succeeded in getting him to tap the telegraph wire to Division Headquarters, testified yesterday. The instruments with which Stringfellow did the tapping were provided by these agents through the Western Union Telegraph company, according to M. F. Jacobson of the department of justice, one of the men who accompanied Stringfellow when he tapped the wire.

Private Thomas F. Devine of the military police, who acted as an agent of the military intelligence office, was the other man with the accused on the night of his arrest.

Jacobson posed as a German lawyer who would get Stringfellow out of the service for a price. Devine was supposed to be a soldier who had been released from the service through the efforts of the "German lawyer." Stringfellow, according to the testimony, made several disloyal remarks against the government of the United States, and finally agreed to tap the headquarters wire for them, believing that the information he secured was going to German agents.

On Nov. 5, Devine testified, he was present at a meeting at 40 Court street, Boston, between Stringfellow and Jacobson, when Stringfellow drew a diagram of the wire system at Camp Devens and declared if he could secure a line book and an instrument he could tap a telegraph wire into Division Headquarters.

Jacobson and Devine met Stringfellow again on Nov. 9. With them was Arnold S. Meyers of the Western Union, from Boston. They sat on a bank near the railroad tracks and Stringfellow told how he would tap the wire Devine testified.

Devine said that he and Jacobson again met Stringfellow on the evening of Nov. 11, near the generating plant on the main road going past Camp Devens. Jacobson and Devine brought with them a telegraph instrument, some wire and other tools. Devine explained how the instrument was set up and how after several wires had been tried Stringfellow appeared to be satisfied with the one he was on and the telegraph instrument was ticking rapidly.

Jacobson also testified that Stringfellow told him he had heard the 12th division was going across soon and he said he wanted to get into the development battalion so he wouldn't have to go. He said Jacobson testified that if he were sent overseas he would desert at the first opportunity and seek the enemy camp.

$7,443,415,838 FOR NEXT FISCAL YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—War expenses persisting in peace times but falling off rapidly will make the government's outlay in the fiscal year 1920, beginning next July 1, $7,443,415,838, of which $5,212,000,000 will go to the war and navy departments.

$593,000,000 to pay interest on war debt and $579,000,000 for continuing the building of a merchant marine, according to departmental estimates presented yesterday to congress.

These expenses compare with the $24,599,000,000 appropriations for the current year ending next June 30, with the $18,000,000,000 which probably will be actually spent this year and with the ordinary annual expenses of about $1,000,000,000 before the war.

The advance estimates are necessarily round and many departments expect to cut them down during the next few months.

The war department wants $2,555,000,000 next year for bringing the army home from Europe, maintaining part of the force, continuing fortifications and other purposes, and the navy department estimates its needs at $2,636,000,000, even more than this year.

The shipping board asks $500,000,000 for building ships already authorized by congress, $60,000,000 for operation of vessels, $17,451,000 for recruiting and training officers and crews and $1,453,000 for incidental administration expense.

$502,000,000 for Interest on Debt

The item of $553,000,000 as interest on public debt includes provision for meeting the semi-annual payments on Liberty bonds already outstanding and those to be issued in the near future, and this sum is not subject to any great alteration.

Only $1,567,000 is included in the estimates for building, and practically all of this is for continuing construction already under way.

Similarly about half of the $19,870,000 for rivers and harbors is for maintenance or continuation of existing projects; $5,000,000 is asked as a general fund for use by the secretary of war and $4,000,000 for flood control on the Mississippi river.

For congress, it is estimated, expenses will be $17,953,000; for the president and a few bureaus revolving about him, $5,951,000; for the state department, $12,725,000; for the treasury and all fiscal purposes, $1,427,515,000; Panama canal, $12,216,000; interior department and a number of public works projects, $270,283,000; department of agriculture, $58,283,000; department of commerce, $39,388,000; department of labor, $26,712,000; federal courts, $1,410,000; for foreign intercourse, including consular activities, $11,042,000; for Indian affairs, $11,039,000; and for pensions arising out of past wars, $220,000,000, the usual sum sought.

Expect Action on Sinking Fund

There is provision in the estimates for $287,000,000 for the establishment of a sinking fund, reported perfunctorily in previous years. In the face of the tremendous public debt, however, it is regarded as probable that congress now will provide for a real redemption fund with which to pay bonds when they fall due in future years.

The estimated total of $7,443,415,838 does not include this item, nor $358,307,000 for postal service the needs of which are covered automatically by appropriations, but are met directly from postal revenues.

That officials count on the continued functioning of the war risk insurance bureau to administer soldiers' and sailors' insurance and compensation payment is indicated by the request for $12,367,000 for administration expenses.

The cost of collecting federal taxes is put at $27,446,000. An unusual item is $20,000,000 for conducting the decennial census.

A little more than $30,000,000 would be spent by the department of agriculture in fighting plant and animal diseases and educational work. For the tariff commission $400,000 is asked, or twice as much as the appropriation for this year.

Despite the uncertainty of life for a number of government war agencies estimates are made for the war trade

PARIS, Dec. 3.—(Havas)—French military aviators are planning the organization of an association to foster aerial sports and to place competent pilots at the service of the government and industry and business. The association will include the leading French aviators and will have the support of the government. Numerous aces already have signified their intention of joining.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN PORTLAND, ME.

PORTLAND, Dec. 3.—Charles B. Clarke, republican, was elected mayor of Portland, yesterday over Llewellyn Barton, democrat, by a majority of 1304. The election was a quiet one, the total vote falling off from 1900 last year to 6844 this year. The city council will stand 28 republicans to 8 democrats, a gain of one republican.

THE GERMS OF INFLUENZA

The Influenza Bacilli are exceedingly small, those shown in the above cut being magnified about 600 times, under the microscope. After these germs get into the blood, and we suffer from Influenza, the disease leaves us with thin, watery blood—weak, anaemic, and unable to do our accustomed work.

What's to be done in such cases? Put iron in your blood and the cells become round and red. They lose the irregular shape and you gain in vim, vigor and vitality. The best combination of iron for the blood is in the form of a new iron tablet, put up by Dr. Pierce, called "Ironite." You will find, instead of pale cheeks, feelings of lassitude, tired, worn-out before the day is half done, after taking "Ironite" your cheeks will have color, you will feel strong and vigorous and ready for the fray. Start now and you will be surprised how full of vim, vigor and vitality you will feel in a few short weeks.

Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practise cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) Tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poison-matter. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric Tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed.

HUNS TRIED TO STEAL AWAIT PEACE SESSION

BRITISH ENSIGN

LONDON, Dec. 3 (British wireless service).—An interesting incident is related in connection with the arrival of surrendered German U-boats. It was dark when they reached their moorings in the Stour river. Lieut. Com. Gaines, who had piloted one of the submarines in, called his signal man below for a moment. On coming on deck he noticed that the British ensign which had been hoisted on the boat had disappeared. The British commander gave the German commander two minutes in which to produce it. Well within that time the ensign made its appearance from out of a bag belonging to the Germans.

AIR POSTAL RATE TO BE REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—With the establishment of daily air mail service between New York and Chicago Dec. 15 the air postal rate will be reduced from 16 cents an ounce to six cents. This rate applies to letters and sealed parcels not exceeding 36 inches in length and girth combined. It is optional whether special delivery stamps are used.

NAT GOODWIN LOSES AN EYE

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Nat Goodwin, the actor, submitted to an operation yesterday for the removal of one of his eyes at a hospital here. Damage to the eye, caused by his mixing, through error, the wrong ingredients in an eye wash made the operation necessary. It was said. He has been on the road recently in a comedy.

TO FIX PRICES OF IDENTIFIED ARTICLES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Legislation permitting manufacturers to fix retail prices for trademark or otherwise identified articles under government supervision was recommended to Congress today by the federal trade commission.

Under the present law as interpreted by the supreme court, maintenance of resale prices is regarded as in restraint of trade and the commission pointed out that it has been obliged to enforce this view in many cases that came before it. Consequently since price cutting has been recognized as a possible unfair method of competition confusion has resulted.

Both the wholesale and retail merchant are entitled to just compensation for useful services performed, the commission said.

Would Postpone Questions

Regarding League of Nations and Freedom of Seas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Postponement until after the peace conference of questions regarding forming a league of nations and any "sweeping changes" in ancient international laws of freedom of the seas, is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, republican.

BOSTON MAN JAILED FOR FORGING SIGNATURES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 3.—For forging signatures to postal savings certificates and passing and attempting to pass them, Thomas F. Horgan of Boston was today sentenced by Judge Arthur L. Brown in the United States district court to a year and a day in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta.

Horgan pleaded nolo. On Oct. 9 he met Thomas F. Murphy in a saloon in this city, drank with him and in some way came into possession of $72 worth of postal savings certificates belonging to Murphy. The postoffice refused to honor the certificates when Horgan presented them, and after he had passed two of them on storekeepers the next day, he was arrested in Pawtucket.

ALL AMERICAN WOUNDED BACK BY CHRISTMAS

LONDON, Dec. 3.—All American wounded in England with the exception of about 500 serious cases will be back in the United States by Christmas according to present plans. They will be sent home as rapidly as shipping is available. Two large American hospitals in London will be closed within the next few days.

GARFIELD RESTORES LICENSE TO FUEL CO.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Deprived of the right to do business by Fuel Administrator Garfield since last June 19, the Penn Fuel Co., announced here today that its license had been restored upon the recommendation of the department of justice that no case had been found against it. It had been charged that the company had sold coal unsuited for use in the warzone for ships plying between the United States and neutral countries.

MR. EVERETT TRUE

City Council

last year the city had $700,000 in loans, while this year the total loans amounted to only $152,000.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.10. Commissioners Donnelly and Morse being absent. Commissioner Donnelly came in later. Following the passage of the order to borrow $200,000 in anticipation of the payment of taxes, the meeting settled down to routine business.

A communication from the city solicitor relative to the claim for compensation for loss of salary of Thomas McClooghrey asked that the law department be granted an extension of time to re-investigate the matter and it was so voted. Edward J. Tierney, counsel for Mr. McClooghrey, was present and it was agreed to him that the matter be deferred for two weeks.

A petition from A. J. Couture, asking that he be granted a license to erect a garage at 68 Branch street was held over for a hearing on Dec. 24.

Joseph White was appointed a weigher of coal, hay and other articles for the Bay State Street Railway Co.

The commissioner of public property and licenses was granted authority to enter into a contract with the Lowell Gas Light Co. for the installation of a water heater in the Central fire station in Palmer street, the cost to be $249.

Influenza Claims

On recommendation of the city solicitor the claims for compensation from 12 local theatrical employees for the time they lost during the recent influenza epidemic were given leave to withdraw. The solicitor said that in his opinion there was no responsibility on the part of the city. The claimants were: Joseph Alexander, Sidney C. Barton, Charles F. Brennan, Arthur B. Ecklund, Charles J. Larue, Fred Lester, Fred Wheeler and Maurice Cooper, all members of the Moving Picture Operators' association, No. 590; and Augustine Glassmire, Joseph Crehan, Alice Glenister and George B. O'Connor, employees of the Lowell Opera House.

Anna Corcoran was given leave to withdraw on her claim for compensation for personal injury, upon recommendation of the city solicitor.

Alice L. Abel was appointed a weigher of coal for the William E. Livingston Co.

A claim for compensation from Alden B. and Philip H. Hisey for damage to an automobile in South street on Nov. 9, the damage being caused to the top of the machine by a ladder of one of the fire department's trucks which was standing in the street at the time, was referred to the law department.

A claim of Michael C. Crumney of 15 England street for damage to his property at that address caused by the overflow of the Lawrence street sewer, was likewise referred.

The city solicitor was instructed to represent the city at the probating of the will of Hosea E. Hill.

It was voted to abate the assessment against Emma H. White for a concrete sidewalk in White street to the extent of $20.10.

Commissioner Brown said that he favored the appropriation of $10,000 for the welfare of Lowell soldiers and sailors during the period extending from the time that they return here until they find employment.

Mayor Thompson said that he believed the federal government was to look after that phase of the soldiers' and sailors' welfare to a great extent and that there was no way of knowing at present just what part the city was to play in the program. Mr. Brown's motion was not carried. Adjourned at 10.45 until Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 10 a. m.

WOULD ADD ANOTHER PRINCIPLE TO THE 14

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—An appeal to the United States peace delegation to add a 15th principle to the 14 enunciated by President Wilson was made by the National Equal Rights league, a negro organization, today. The league, speaking, it says, for "15,000,000 Americans notoriously suffering from deprivation of democracy" calls on the peace delegates to insist upon the principle of "elimination of civil, political and judicial disabilities and distinctions based on race and color in all nations for the new era of freedom everywhere."

"TERRORIST" SERVICE IS ORGANIZED BY HUNS

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(British wireless service).—Condemnation of the "terrorist" service organized by the Germans in Switzerland, is voiced by the Frankfurt Gazette.

"The trials in connection with the discovery of bombs at Zurich," it says, "have led to the disclosure of a 'terrorist' service of the German general staff in Switzerland. With the support of diplomatic and consular couriers, explosives and bacilli cultures were supplied, especially to Italian and French anarchists, in order that they might practice sabotage in their countries and spread disease among the army horses."

TWO HYDROPLANES ARRIVE AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 3.—Two hydroplanes secured to assist in the War Savings Stamp drive in Maine, arrived today from Chatham, Mass., making the trip in two hours and a half with a stop at Portsmouth. The greater part of the way the machines were at an altitude of only 300 to 500 feet because of fog and a heavy snow squall. Otherwise better time would have been made at a higher altitude. They will be here several days then visit other points on the coast.

FOUND DEAD IN HOUSE

HOLYOKE, Dec. 3.—Arrested to action by the continued disturbance of a junky horse in his stable, neighbors of James E. Farrell, a local contractor who lived alone, broke into his house here today and found him dead. Farrell, who was 55 years old, was last seen alive Friday.

Europe Wants Our Furs

This means fur prices will be higher. This is a secret. The real reason Paris has been making so much of fuzzy yarn trimmings is that she has been unable to get furs in anywhere near adequate quantities. There will be no release in the demand for furs. The catch has been short the world over. The basis for next year's prices is the price paid to trappers today. And the figures show that the trappers are getting higher prices than skins ever brought before.

THE SUN AND "MOTHER'S HOUR"

When The Sun's ad men call on a Lowell business man to sell service, what is their proposition in concrete form?

The Sun sells the use of a given space in its columns for one or more days, for a specified sum. The Sun guarantees that what you have to say in this space about your business or your merchandise will reach the eye of a certain number of persons who read The Sun. The Sun calls attention to the fact that newspaper circulation experts certify that on an average, every copy of a newspaper is read by four persons. Thus the circulation and pulling power of a Sun advertisement is equal to its guaranteed circulation multiplied four times.

Why advertise in The Sun? Here is one of the best reasons: Eighty per cent of the buying in America is done by women. A woman's housework must be planned in advance. When you advertise your bargains in The Sun the day before your sale takes place that "eighty per cent buying power"—the woman—will have time in the evening after supper to read your ad, to consult with the wage earner of the home, to compare ads, and to plan their work so that they can slip down town next day in the forenoon or the afternoon to do their shopping.

There is psychology in this argument. It is taken for granted you will have your best values in the ad. Advertise seasonably. The Sun sets your stage for you. Your message is carried to the men and women of Lowell at the easiest time of the day to secure their attention by

SEC. BAKER'S APPEAL

Secretary Baker, knowing how important it is to maintain the high morale of the troops now temporarily awaiting orders in France, has recommended that the folks at home keep in close touch with the boys "over there" by writing them letters of such a nature as will keep their minds turned towards the homeland. Mr. Baker's letter to Mr. Fredrick, chairman of the commission on war camp activities, is so important that it is here inserted:

War Department, Washington, D.C.

My Dear Mr. Fredrick:

The eyes of the world are upon our soldiers overseas today not more for what they have done than for what they are now called upon to do. Before them lie the tasks of helping to rehabilitate the devastated lands of France and Belgium and of making sure that the victory in which they have so gloriously shared shall be a permanent one.

This means that we may not expect soon to have them all with us here and to greet them face to face. The postponement of their home-coming will be often uppermost as well in their minds as in ours. They will yet meet and must overcome many difficulties without either the incentive or the excitement lent in the past by the activities of war. They need our help and encouragement now perhaps more than at any other time since they left home in order that they may be inspired and strengthened to maintain that fitness of character, manner and conduct which has earned for them such universal respect.

I believe that among all the influences which may be focused upon this object, the strongest and most far-reaching is that which emanates from home letters, and I therefore urge the mothers, fathers, wives and sisters of our soldiers overseas to express themselves earnestly in their letters as their share in seeing that the high standards which America represents both here and abroad shall be constantly upheld.

Cordially yours,

NEWTON D. BAKER,

Secretary of War.

Mr. Raymond B. Fosdick.

The commission on training camp activities has done a very valuable work in providing for the entertainment and comfort of the soldiers in the cantonments at home as well as in the training camps and quarters near the battlefront in Europe.

We have no doubt that fathers, mothers, wives, sisters and brothers will readily comply with Mr. Baker's request, so that the boys over there may not be overcome by the monotony of idleness which, to most of them, will bring a strain fully as hard to bear as active duty in the field. News from home accompanied by gifts will be especially welcomed. It is at the present time, in the lull between peace and demobilization, that the work of the various organizations engaged in providing amusement for the troops, will be appreciated. Let the relatives and friends on this side help out, as Mr. Baker suggests. Soldiers' mail should be transported much more rapidly. It now that the submarine peril has been removed.

JUSTICE HUGHES ALSO

Justice Charles E. Hughes is not usually a blatant supporter for republican domination for the outside, but in view of the excited condition of his party, he has evidently been constrained to say something in its behalf, and so he had to harp on the popular chord which, at this time, in the opinion of republican politicians, is criticism of the administration. In an address at Columbia university, he strongly condemned the extension of war powers to peace conditions as productive of industrial inefficiency and a most serious offence against our institutions. He talked as if peace had been declared some time ago, whereas all that has been done thus far, is to declare an armistice. It is true that nobody expects a resumption of hostilities; but neither Mr. Hughes nor anybody else has a right to represent the administration as remiss because it has not cancelled every government contract, demobilized the entire army, and announced that government control is ended and private control restored wherever it had been assumed over industries through the necessity of war.

To relinquish government control of industries very abruptly would bring something like an industrial panic, yet the republicans are shouting for this very thing. Justice Hughes, after describing the "dire effects" of government control of industries, just as if such a thing were being carried to a dangerous extreme, put in a saving proviso to the effect that the readjustment must be gradual and "with the circumspection of all the interests, public and private, involved." Thus he criticized the administration but, like the other critics, he did not deign to tell what in his opinion had been done wrong, or how any part of the business he criticized might have been done better by a different method. There is safety in obscurity and for that reason, even the very distinguished Mr. Hughes confines his strictures to vague generalities.

CASUALTIES DELAYED

The announcement that not more than 40 per cent of the war casualties have yet been reported, is causing considerable uneasiness. The total casualties reported thus far number 101,572, classified as follows:

Killed in action	20,936
Died of wounds	7,886
Died of disease	10,648
Died of other causes	1,731
Wounded	48,949
Missing and prisoners	11,419
Total	101,572

It is now announced that the total casualties number 201,886. If the totals have reached this high figure, it would seem that there has been either great delay in reporting them from the other side, or else there have been frightful losses in the final battles of the war. Yet, the delay that has thus come to light may have resulted from a combination of both causes.

General Pershing may not have realized the extent of the task of gathering in the killed and wounded, having positive identification made, and all the facts duly recorded. There was a howl against having able bodied men employed in clerical work such as this, which may have resulted in cutting down the force necessary to do the work right and without a reasonable time. Besides, it is not improbable that the fighting in the final stages of the war reached proportions far greater than even General Pershing had anticipated.

RETURNING SOLDIERS

Just what kind of reception will be given to the home-coming soldiers is a problem that will be somewhat embarrassing to His Honor, Mayor Thompson, although it seems to us that he has adopted the most feasible method in arranging for a band to be ready at call when the men arrive. One of the difficulties involved is, that all soldiers look much alike, and it will be difficult to distinguish between the men who return from England and who never saw the battlefront, and those who were on the firing line for many months, who were shell-shocked, gassed, bombed and subjected to the very worst experiences of the battle of the Marne, the Meuse, the St. Mihiel salient and the Argonne.

These are the men for whom we should reserve the highest honors; but as we have indicated, it is difficult to measure honors in a public reception and so we expect that the men who saw no fighting will get just as cordial a welcome as will those who went through the hell fire of war. But eventually, the community must pay due honor to the men who helped to drive the Germans back and to place the American army side by side with the best in the world in point of courage, heroism, and all that goes to make up an unconquerable fighting force. Yet, the men who did not get to the battle front were ready to give their lives for the flag. That they did not get the opportunity was not their fault. They deserve due honor in having done their full duty wherever called.

NORTH COMMON RESERVE

If we are to heed the warning of officials who know the conditions on the North common, it appears that this particular part of our park system must for the present be abandoned to hoodlums after dark. Yet we are maintaining an expensive police department. Unless this common be made safe for the public, it should be closed up. The commons are for all the people, not for the privileged few who in this case are the hoodlums who nightly assemble there for carousals and who are in the habit of assaulting or robbing persons who pass through at night without a strong body-guard. How would it be for anybody who wants to cross the North common at night to apply at the police station for an escort?

Is it a fact that police officers are afraid to cross this common at night?

For the present, people who wish to pass through the North common after dark should follow the practice of men going into battle—and leave their cash and other valuables in safe keeping before assuming the risk.

EX-KAISER'S CONCERN

The most anxious concern of the ex-kaiser just at present, is not whether he can regain his throne, but whether he can escape the retribution to which his multitudinous crimes have made him amenable. His execution as an international traitor might deter some military and ruler of the distant future from trying to upset civilization in order to carry out his ambition. The death penalty in the Kaiser's case would be the initial step towards holding crowned heads responsible for their crimes as well as other people.

Presumably a rare and talented company is to be found in the personnel of the 500 honest to goodness newspaper correspondents who sailed from New York on the transport Orizaba. We now know that newspaper readers of the United States want at least 500 versions or points of view of what takes place at the peace table. When reporters get together—or should we stick to the more dignified, "correspondents?"—there is always a lively swapping of experiences. And on this trip across, Baron Munchausen may be sorry that of all his adventures, none, by all that is reported, included getting an international scoop that would do honor to Dr. Cook or the United Press.

The war department says that after five months of experimenting by its scientists, it will soon announce the way to make a new kind of fuel for automobiles and airplanes. The department proposes to call this, "Liberty fuel." Previously, there has been nothing very free about the privilege of owning and maintaining an automobile. The one word that summed up the experience of keeping one was "Cost." All hail this new Liberty fuel and let it be put on the market as soon as possible. Perhaps it is something that tank wagons can pour into one's cellar and we shall, in the future, merely turn a faucet instead of shovelling coal and sifting ashes.

Gotham folk for a long time called some of the police officers "fly cops." It meant officers detailed for special duty, usually for the fight against vice. But now,

New York is to have real "fly cops." The department has established an aviation section and policeman flyers will maintain an aerial patrol observing the harbor, the Hudson river and the waterfront, with special attention to fires. This is truly a wonderful departure, as the machines will be equipped with wireless telephone apparatus.

What is one man's meat may be another man's poison. Upon announcement being made that Secretary of War Baker reported his department had cancelled more than $2,000,000,000 worth of war contracts, stocks in New York slumped very badly. You and I would have had to contribute to this two billions of dollars, because it involves part of the cost of carrying on the war. A small group of quotation board watchers in New York and throughout the country may have suffered a little bit, but for the other hundred million of Americans, it was a lifting of their load.

The community of Newark, N. J., is rather badly off, it would seem, as indicated by the fact that one of its police officials has established a censor who will pass on the depth and bizarreness of the complexions "laid on" by some of Newark's young women. If some of the Newark fathers and mothers would arm themselves with a bible in the right hand and a shingle in the left hand, and proceed to enlighten the daughters of Newark as to what mention the bible makes of Palestine's painted women, it is possible that considerable good would be accomplished.

The Bay State discontinued 10 of its airlines Sunday. Let the former patrons accept the new condition with some degree of philosophy. It means many less cold cars and much less poor service. If the Bay State, in discontinuing these lines, thinks it is carrying out a threat, perhaps the threat will be found to have in fact lost its punch.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

It is of course interesting to Lowell textile workers to know that four out of the five big textile unions in Fall River have voted to accede to the request of the Fall River mill owners that the question of raising wages be held in abeyance on account of the somewhat unsettled but not alarming outlook for the cotton manufacturing industry. This decision is not cited here because of any condition or impending condition in Lowell. The relations between the worker and the employer, as a number of mill agents took pains to point out to a Sun representative last week, are at this time cordial and harmonious. There is a very commendable absence of friction. In Fall River the proposition to advance wages was put up to the manufacturers in a businesslike but not belittling manner, by official representatives of the textile workers. The reply of the employers was courteous and painstakingly explanatory of the fact that wages could not be granted precisely at this time as the owners were not sure what the specific outcome of changing from a war basis to a peace time basis, would be.

It is interesting to note that the Christmas eve waits of the Club Lafayette have started rehearsals for their holiday eve program. Since the war started, and particularly with the participation of the United States in the war, the members of this club believed it would be better to suspend what was one of the most enjoyable features of the community's holiday life. But the war is over now and the excellent singing of these fine voices will once more be heard in front of many of our Lowell homes along about the time Santa Claus is attending to his business. Persons who are to be serenaded never know beforehand about it. That is one of the secrets of the Christmas eve waits and holding to an old custom descended from the waits of England and France. The procedure is, that when on Christmas eve, out of all the thrills of the winter night you hear a splendid melody of voices in your front yard or in the driveway and you hear the first strains of "God bless you, merry gentlemen," it is up to you to show a light if it is after bedtime and you have retired, throw open your front door in hospitable manner and invite the waits inside to copious and ample refreshments of food and drink in order that their strength and good music can be kept up and their program completed. Sometimes the Club Lafayette singers have started at 11 o'clock Christmas eve and had places enough to go so that it was light in the sky Christmas morning before the last serenade had been sung. This year I understand that Dr. G. E. Caisse, the popular doctor and musician, is to conduct the rehearsals and will have charge of the Club Lafayette Christmas eve singers.

THE OCCIDENT

We have been short of OCCIDENT FLOUR, the government having taken so much of the mills' output it was hard to take care of family trade. We now have four cars in and more on the way. Any grocer in Lowell can get it for you. We warrant it the best in Lowell. If it doesn't prove so after you try it, you can get your money back. Don't be fooled by anyone telling you there are other flours, just as good, as one trial of Occident will convince you that there are not.

The transferring of the franchise for roller polo from Boston to New Bedford interested Lowell fans considerably. The Boston team gave Hub folk good playing and the Hub folk turned out in good numbers I understand. The trouble was the overhead expenses. The management of the Boston team had to pay $400 a night just for the rent of the hall where the game was put on. All the polo fans turned out for games that could reasonably be expected and the management does not complain about attendance. The management found itself confronted with a total overhead expense that put profit out of the question so far as games played in Boston were concerned. New Bedford is a live city with thousands of sport followers. It is expected New Bedford will give the good team coming to that city to represent it, in his behalf and they bank on his fine support. It is to be expected that the team will be known as the "whalers" and it remains to be seen if the team can live up to its nickname and deliver a whaling to about all the teams it meets on the circuit. When working under the Boston colors it did. The whalers do not make Lowell this week although Lawrence will see them. On account of the New Bedford rink not yet being ready for polo games, the team will be on the road all this week.

IRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely invest a few cents in a bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine at any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.

Save your hair. Beautify it! You will say this was the best money you ever spent.

—waffle season—and do you know how good waffles can be when they are made with Mazola after this recipe.

MAZOLA gives better results in frying, sautéing or shortening than lard, suet or so-called cooking compounds. If you have not yet used Mazola, get a can from your grocer and try this recipe for waffles.

Coming from an edible source—the heart of the golden American corn—Mazola is as pure and delicate as the daintiest foods cooked in it.

And its wonderful economy cannot be measured by its first cost. You can fry even fish or onions in Mazola, drain the oil off, and use it over and over again. Mazola never carries odors or flavors from one food to another.

Get Mazola from your grocer, in pint, quart or gallon tins. Large sizes most economical.

Also ask for the Mazola Book of Recipes or write us direct—free on request.

GOODBY, WOMEN'S TROUBLES

The tortures and discomforts of weak, lame and aching back, swollen and bloated feet and limbs, weakness, lassitude, dizziness, nausea, that tired worn-out feeling, nervousness, sleeplessness, as a rule have their origin in kidney trouble, not female complaints. These general symptoms of kidney and bladder disease are well known—so is the remedy. Next time you feel a twinge of pain in the back or are troubled with headache, indigestion, insomnia, irritation in the bladder or pain in the loins and lower abdomen, you will find quick and sure relief in GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL Capsules. This old and tried remedy for kidney disease and allied derangements has stood the test for hundreds of years. It does the work. Pains and troubles vanish and new life and health will come as you continue their use. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day; they will keep you feeling fine and prevent a return of your trouble.

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed boxes, three sizes—Adv.

WILL ENJOY WELL EARNED REST

Daniel J. Owens, one of the most popular young men in Lowell's social and fraternal circles, has returned to Lowell for a well-earned rest after having served a strenuous two months as a Knights of Columbus secretary at the large naval cantonment at Pelham Bay, N. Y.

Mr. Owens speaks very enthusiastically of the manner in which the Knights of Columbus are looking after the comfort and entertainment of the navy boys at his station and attributes a large part of the success attained there to John F. McGrath, chief secretary of the K. of C. in that district, who will be remembered by many knights in this city as being a prominent member of Boston's fraternal organizations a few years ago before taking up his residence in New York.

In a detailed talk before the members of the Mohican club recently, of which Mr. Owens is a most popular member, he described graphically the scenes surrounding the celebration of victory in New York city.

After spending a few days with relatives and friends Mr. Owens will return to Pelham Bay, but only for a short time, as he is awaiting orders to go overseas with Siberia as his most probable assignment.

Give Candy Cascarets to a Bilious, Constipated Child

"Mother gives me a candy Cascaret when I am cross, sick and won't play."

TO MOTHERS! Each ten cent box of Cascarets, candy cathartic, contains full directions for dose for children aged one year old and upwards. Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the tender little bowels so gently, yet so thoroughly. Even cross, feverish, bilious children gladly take Cascarets without being coaxed. Cascarets taste just like candy. Cascarets never gripe the little bowels, never sicken, never injure, but above all, they never disappoint the worried mother.

POLO NOTES

Providence, headed by Bernie Doherty, will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.

This announcement means that the fans are in for a good exhibition of polo. The Providence and Lowell teams always play a classy game, and while on paper Providence has a little on the locals, on the floor the Lowell boys give them a great battle.

The transfer of Boston to New Bedford, may mean the shift of Quincy to Fall River. Quincy has not been supporting the club staying there, and unless an immediate change for the better occurs, Moe Conley and his will soon be sporting a new name on their uniforms.

Two teams of old time bowlers, the Victorians and Libertys played their third contest of the season at Kirtledge's alleys, Saturday evening. The match was one of the closest and most exciting of all, the Victory team finally downing their opponents by 39 pins.

At the close of the second string the Liberty team had secured a lead of 51 pins, but the Victorians came back strong in the closing periods, and through the commendable work of H. E. Brown, who was substituted for Kingwood, and some fine rolling by Sharpe and King finally annexed the necessary winning margin.

The scores:

ALEXANDER MEMBER OF

ARMY OF OCCUPATION

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, the Chicago National League pitcher, who entered the army soon after the club paid Philadelphia $50,000 for him, is with the American army of occupation now marching into Germany.

This information was given by Manager Fred Mitchell today and dissipates hopes that the pitcher would be available for duty next season.

Dual Training Trip

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—A dual training trip to California with some American League team, if it can be arranged, is one of the plans of Manager Mitchell of the Chicago Nationals, who is slated to become president as well as manager of the National League champions next year.

After riding until nearly 9 o'clock, however, Drobach left ten track and the team was officially declared out of the race.

The Drobach-Verri team withdrew from the race at 7:59 a. m. Verri had been complaining of his back and for three or four hours before the team retired Drobach continued to ride. He was given four hours to find another partner.

Two teams of old time bowlers, the Victorians and Libertys played their third contest of the season at Kirtledge's alleys, Saturday evening. The match was one of the closest and most exciting of all, the Victory team finally downing their opponents by 39 pins.

At the close of the second string the Liberty team had secured a lead of 51 pins, but the Victorians came back strong in the closing periods, and through the commendable work of H. E. Brown, who was substituted for Kingwood, and some fine rolling by Sharpe and King finally annexed the necessary winning margin.

The scores:

GERMANS TO HAND OVER 5000 LOCOMOTIVES

PARIS, Dec. 2.—The Germans will be unable to hand over all of the 5000 locomotives stipulated in the armistice agreement by Dec. 17, according to the Matin and it is possible that the allies will grant more time to the enemy. This will have the effect of delaying peace negotiations, since they cannot begin until the armistice conditions have all been fulfilled.

Discussions between the allied delegations to the peace conference will probably begin on Dec. 26, with President Wilson taking part personally.

BAVARIAN PREMIER LOSING PRESTIGE

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Kurt Eisner, the Bavarian premier, is losing prestige, according to Munich advices received here by the way of Amsterdam, Copenhagen and Bern. A Copenhagen despatch says that Eisner was hissed by his own partisans at Munich during a celebration in honor of returning soldiers. Later a supporter of Eisner was not allowed to make a speech and was obliged to flee from an angry crowd which removed the Red flag and stormed the minister of the interior's residence. "Down with Eisner!" Guards fired over the heads of the crowds which dispersed.

HONOR LOWELL ARTIST Reception to Elizabeth Morse Walsh at Whistler House Last Evening

Miss Elizabeth Morse Walsh, a Lowell painter, was given a reception last evening at the Whistler house that was most unique in that it marked the opening of the 1918-19 season of the Lowell Art association and was accompanied by an informal exhibition of the gifted Lowell artist's works. The affair was wholly informal and attracted a comparatively meagre gathering of members of the organization and their friends. However, the paintings will remain on exhibition daily until Dec. 14 and will be readily accessible to the general public without charge, so it is hoped that the concentrated admiration expressed by those present last evening will have an opportunity to widen into a much larger circle of appreciation.

Miss Walsh has succeeded admirably in escaping the ever prevalent peril of mediocrity and in successfully bridging the chasm she has not fallen into the abyss of lack of originality. She has studied under such masters as Hale, Paxton and Tarbell, but none of their tendencies is predominant in her work. She has diversified her output and the commendable result has been estimable versatility.

In all, 10 canvases are shown at the Whistler house in the large exhibition room and one easily receives the impression that there is room for more. Four of the 10 are copies of works in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the others are of distinctive originality. All are good in their respective fields and their wide variance and intrinsic worth seem to destine a highly notable career for their painter.

The hospitality committee served refreshments last evening with Mrs. A. R. Hussey at the urn and Mrs. Joseph Talbot and others assisting.

KING FERDINAND AND QUEEN MARY VISIT PARIS

PARIS, Dec. 2.—(Havas)—King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania may visit Paris in the near future, according to the Echo de Paris.

UKRAINIANS THREATEN TO STARVE OUT POLES

VIENNA, Monday, Dec. 2. (By the Associated Press).—Travelers arriving from Lemberg state that Ukrainian troops are preparing to surround and starve out the city of which the Polish forces are in control. The Ukrainians are said to have already cut the railroad and are being reinforced by sufficient troops returning from the Italian front to make a fight against the Poles.

The Ukrainians deny that they are bolsheviks, but say that when the Austrian empire was broken up, they felt they had a right to the capital city of Lemberg, the Poles having other capitals. Difficulties are also anticipated between the Poles and Czechs over the possession of Oderberg, a town in Austrian Silesia.

KILL CUSTOMS OFFICER AND TAKE $125,000

BISBEE, Ariz., Dec. 2.—Five masked bandits killed Customs Collector Carlos Caturegli of Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mexico, and two of his guards, wounded a third and they escaped with $125,000 in gold last night. They are believed to have crossed to the American side of the border. The robbery occurred 12 miles west of Agua Prieta.

U. S. R.R. ARTILLERY Engineering Achievements of American Army and Navy Disclosed

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Engineering achievements by the American army and navy during the war will be described at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which opens its three days' session tonight. Honorary membership will be conferred upon Charles M. Schwab and Orville Wright.

Tomorrow, Commander Cathart, U.S.N., of the bureau of steam engineering will explain how big naval guns were transported to France. Col. James R. Dillard of the ordnance department will speak on "Railroad artillery"—the first release by the war department of this information. E. D. Waten of the bureau of standards, will tell how the United States developed cotton fabric to be used in place of linen for airplane wings.

GERMAN FLYING LEAGUE PLANS FOR NEXT WAR

LONDON, Nov. 27. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—In Germany there is a society called the Deutsche Fliegerbund. Just as the German navy league was largely influential in giving Germany a powerful navy, so this new flying league, it is believed, is expected to promote the German aim in "the next war" of conquering the world from the air.

According to a Bremen paper, the league will undertake the preliminary work in the training of young men for the air service. Flying schools are to be established for the practical and theoretical instruction of boys from 15 to 18 years old.

The training will be carried out, the paper says, by means of model airplanes. The monthly fee will be one mark, about 25 cents. "Practical training, four marks a year," the announcement reads.

TOBACCO FARMERS HOLD INDIGNATION MEETING

OWENSBORO, Ky., Dec. 2.—Angered by what they considered inadequate prices offered at the first sales of the season here yesterday on the Owensboro loose leaf tobacco market several hundred farmers adjourned to the courthouse and held an indignation meeting at which resolutions were adopted urging other farmers to withhold their crops from the market until better prices were offered.

The sales today totalled about 500,000 pounds at an average price of $14.50 a hundred pounds as compared with $16.68 a hundred pounds at the opening sales last year.

The decrease in the average prices was largely due to the slump in prices paid for "trash" which this year sold for only about seven dollars a hundred pounds as compared with about $10 a hundred pounds last year.

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Congressman John Jacob Rogers arrived back in Washington yesterday after receiving his honorable discharge from the United States army, in time to take his seat in the house of representatives and to represent the Massachusetts fifth congressional district at the time President Wilson made his epoch-making speech to the joint session.

Not only was Rep. Rogers able to arrive in Washington in time to be in his seat for this event but he also, as part of the routine and duties of his office, sent to the secretary of the navy the following names of young men living in Lowell and vicinity as principals and alternates for the Annapolis examinations: principals, John S. Keating, Welborn and Francis Dow Hamblin, Andover; alternates, Charles E. McCarthy, George A. Leahy, Jr., James G. McKinley, Richard S. Baron and Patrick J. Mullane, all of Lowell, and Alexander Watson, Harvard Mass.

PEACE ACTIVITIES OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. Peace activities of the American Red Cross will be active cooperation from the nurses and lay women of the country as that which has been given so freely during the war, says Miss Jane A. Delane, director of the Department of Nursing of the American Red Cross, in a statement issued today.

"Physicians and nurses," she said, "will have an important part in rebuilding the health and morale of the invaded countries of Europe. Tuberculosis, typhus and influenza are prevalent over there and malnutrition, expense and exhaustion have assumed no mean proportions. There will be opportunities for American nurses along this line of reconstruction work."

In this country, she adds, the town and country nursing service will be developed in the utmost under the direction of the Red Cross. Release of nearly 20,000 graduate nurses from military service will enable the Red Cross to engage in various lines of social welfare work.

AS YET NO RUSSIAN REFUSE TO RETURN THROUGH GERMANY

PARIS, Dec. 2. (Havas).—It is reported from Warsaw that 1200 soldiers from Alexander's army, who were taken prisoner by the Russians, have refused to return to their homes by the way of Germany. They are being detained temporarily in barracks offered by the Polish military authorities.

THE AMERICAN CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—American citizens are advised in a statement by Secretary Lansing that they file at the state department, within 30 days from Dec. 1, information concerning losses sustained through German submarine warfare, either before or after the United States entered the war.

Losses and details concerning them, covering cargoes or personal property or effects, should be submitted only partially insured, and regardless of whether the property was carried in American or foreign vessels.

While the department's announcement gave no reasons for the request, it was understood that the state department desires to have ready all necessary documentary evidence in the claims against Germany for use at the peace conference.

Those filing claims must give the locality where the loss occurred, or the destination of the ship, and the amount of insurance, if any, carried. Insurance companies which have paid, or have pending for settlement, cargo or other personal losses of American citizens, may submit statements giving the totals of such payments or claims.

SCHOONER BADLY DAMAGED IN GALE

SOUTHWEST HARBOR, Me., Dec. 2.—The British schooner Abbie Keast of 107 gross tonnage, badly damaged in Sunday's gale, was towed into the harbor late last night by a coast guard patrol boat.

The schooner was picked up by the patrol boat off Petit Manan, after all her sails had been carried away and 40,000 feet of lumber washed from her deck. Both anchors were lost. The stern was punctured by lumber which shifted in the hold.

Doctor Says One Lung Is Healed and Other Nearly So

Urges Patient to Keep Up the Treatment That Did the Work

"I had consumption of the lungs for six years. I had an outside screened-in sleeping room, and remained out in the open air nearly all the time. I used six raw eggs a day and about a gallon of milk. I had a great many hemorrhages, and was just barely able to walk around the house a little."

"I began taking Mils Emulsion in June. I have now taken my eighteenth bottle and feel greatly benefited. I had my doctor examine my lungs the other day, and he said that one of them is entirely healed up and the other one nearly so. He urges me to keep on using Mils Emulsion, which I intend to do. My original weight was 170 pounds. I have regained most of it, now weigh 160 pounds and feel almost as strong and good as I ever did. My chest is no longer tender. I did not hear of Mils Emulsion six years ago."—Grady Dees, Maquoketa, Ark.

Whether Mils Emulsion would succeed as well for you as it did in the above case, is easy for you to find out. It is at least bound to benefit you, and it costs nothing to try it.

Mils Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Mils Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and consumption are promptly relieved, usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mils Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Mils Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard, the druggist.—Adv.

FREEDOM FOR IRELAND Mass Meeting at Boston De- mands Justice to Erin Through Peace Conference

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—The freezing cold of yesterday afternoon did not deter 4000 persons from attending the mass meeting on Boston common, at the Parkman bandstand, in the interests of self-determination and freedom for Ireland. It was an enthusiastic audience, including all kinds of people—soldiers, sailors, many women and men of all shades of opinion on the Irish question.

There was a long list of speakers and letters were read from Cardinal O'Connell and Mayor Peters. Resolutions addressed to President Wilson and the congress of the United States calling for the absolute freedom of Ireland were unanimously adopted.

Patrick S. Hastings called the meeting to order in a brief speech setting forth the objects of the meeting, and appealing for the independence of Ireland.

Ireland's Part in War

Dr. Henry B. McLaughlin said: "To this meeting, held under the auspices of the Irish-born citizens of Boston, might appropriately be added a Liberty day celebration by Irishmen and their descendants on the defeat of Prussianism and the calling of the attention of Americans to the fact that the United States had entered this war not only for its own defense, but—in the words of President Wilson—for the self-determination of all nations, great and small. Consequently, while we rejoice at the defeat of Prussianism, we do not want any nation to be left out of the results of this recent struggle between civilization and barbarism. (Applause.)"

"As a consequence Ireland is entitled to determine for her self what form of government she wants. And it is plainly evident that she wants complete freedom. (Applause and cheers.)"

If some day, either through malice or ignorance, imagine for a moment that she is not entitled to self-determination on account of the false charges that Ireland has not taken her part in the war, let me quote a British officer on the subject from the Boston Globe of June 30, a member of the British-Canadian recruiting mission. He said that 88 percent of Ireland's man power had volunteered up to January, 1918, and he added, that if she was a German can you imagine 40,000 or 50,000 men enlisting since the uprising in Dublin?"

RESERVE OFFICERS TO WEAR UNIFORMS THREE MONTHS AFTER TRANSFER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Reserve officers were today authorized by the war department to wear their uniforms for three months after the transfer to the inactive list. This privilege already is accorded by law to "any person honorably discharged from the navy, army or marine corps, regulars or volunteers."

DISCIPLINE

We salute the flag; we salute the officer; we respect the uniform. It is pure and simple submission and respect for the emblem, for the office, for the power that we have set up and agreed to uphold for an accepted term.

Those armchair critics who fail in respect to the office, to the government, to the president, to the officials during the term appointed—not only failing to uphold them but opposing and ridiculing them—are no better than those who disregard discipline.

Discipline, the respect due to our government must be enforced. We want no Bolshevik movement to upset our appointed form of government, nor to try to upset the law and order which is our very safeguard.

Our freedom, our government must be respected. At the right time and at the expiration period, criticism is in order.
